YOURSELF

We strive to build loyalty across our whole group, whether this is with our staff or with business partners. We have a focus on developing and retaining current relationships. Loyalty is at the heart of everything we do.

We have grown for almost 50 years to the business it is today. This would not have been possible without always looking at new opportunities, whether this is in business or for our staff. We provide market leading training opportunities to staff through our network of amazing partners.

We are a family-run business, who places emphasis on ensuring everybody involved with Lowy Group is made to feel welcome. Being welcoming helps create a safe and supportive environment, encouraging growth and development. We support diversity and inclusivity at the Lowy Group ensuring everybody feels part of the family. An indicator for this is demonstrated with many staff being with the Lowy Group for 10+ years.

We always encourage employees in our business to be themselves, and express their ideas and inputs openly. Everyone is unique and has their own individual skillsets, we want our every employee to feel they belong in the workplace. Being yourself is what we encourage.
